The Sarah Jane Hardrath Kramer Lecture

This annual event celebrates the life of Sarah Jane Hardrath Kramer and her passion for the visual arts and learning, and recognizes her many years of tireless, enthusiastic, and dedicated service to the Dulin Gallery of Art and the Knoxville Museum of Art. The fund established by Sarah's family, friends, and others committed to the arts supports lectures by a prominent artist, art historian, art educator, or expert in a related field. We hope that all who attend will share in Sarah's love for the arts and for the museum.

This year's speaker, Christiane Paul, is Associate Professor in the School of Media Studies, The New School, and Adjunct Curator of New Media Arts at the Whitney Museum of American Art. She has written extensively on new media arts, lectured internationally on art and technology, and is the recipient of the Thoma Foundation's 2016 Arts Writing Award in Digital Art. Her recent books are A Companion to Digital Art (2016), Digital Art (2015) and Context Providers – Conditions of Meaning in Media Arts (2011). As Adjunct Curator at the Whitney Museum of American Art, she has curated several exhibitions including Cory Arcangel: Pro Tools (2011) and Profiling (2007). Other curatorial work includes Little Sister (is watching you, too), Pratt Manhattan Gallery, 2015, and What Lies Beneath, Borusan Contemporary, Istanbul, 2015.

This year's Kramer Lecture is presented in conjunction with the special exhibition Virtual Views: Digital Art from the Thoma Foundation.
